

Stephanie
Feger

Speaker Kit

Praise for her keynotes ...

"Stephanie Feger was the keynote speaker for the NAWBO Kentucky EPIC Awards 25th Anniversary and she blew it out of the water. Stephanie is relatable, inspiring, and grabbed the attention of the whole audience. I cannot say enough about Stephanie's professionalism, drive and spirit. She is an all-around perfect keynote for any event!"

Trisha A. Abney
Financial Advisor, Abney, Abney & Associates

"Stephanie Feger has a way of bringing people together, of lifting their spirits and helping them see beyond what is right in front of them. She spoke at a recent retreat that our women's ministry had, and I am so grateful for how she encouraged and loved on our ladies! She was authentic and spoke truths that literally had our ladies laughing one minute and crying the next! If you get the opportunity to have her come and speak then DO IT!!"

Jennifer Choate
Women's Ministry Leader, Southeast Christian Church, Southwest Campus

Praise for her workshops ...

"Using the life lessons she writes about in her book, Stephanie Feger created a 4-program series for Bullitt County Public Library that offered participants guidance to creating lasting change in their lives. She engaged her audience with her subject material; it was personal to her and that showed."

Gayle Ryan
Programmer, Bullitt County Public Library

"Stephanie's workshop was truly a gift, including the clear and useful handouts in addition to her incredible content that was easy to understand and put into action! I also really loved the variety of learning techniques she brought to us that made the workshop really well rounded and accessible to many types of learners! I am grateful for her organization and ease of communication from the beginning of our contact."

Emily Johnson Welsh
Owner, Hot Yoga Louisville

About Stephanie

Throughout her life, Stephanie Feger has been in the business of empowering people and helping others uncover the power to their own success. However, it was a dream — literally — that left her with the charge to reframe how she saw her own life and encourage others to do the same. This dream became the catalyst for her to redefine her own success, re-evaluate her personal goals and turn her “what-ifs” into “why-nots.”

Her first book, Color Today Pretty: An Inspirational Guide to Living a Life in Perspective, shares her secrets to harnessing true perspective, the ones she has used to discover the difference between living an ordinary life and an extraordinary one. Her second book, Color Today Pretty Guided Journal, brings the lessons to life and off the page by providing readers the opportunity for personal reflection. Through her speaking engagements, engaging workshops and customized learning opportunities, she invites others to embrace perspective even when it may seem most challenging.

After working in the communications and marketing industry for years, Stephanie felt called to merge her unique expertise with her life's passions. She wanted to empower those who seek to empower others, so she founded the emPower PR Group where she provides customized coaching and consulting to authors, small business owners and entrepreneurs, ensuring those who need to hear their empowering message can and do!

Today, Stephanie is an inspiring author, sought-after speaker and empowering consultant. She is a great choice for individuals who are looking to find a deeper purpose and empower their group, their teams and their organizations to achieve new levels of success.

Popular Speaking Engagement Topics

Stephanie delivers inspirational ideas that leave attendees with actionable ways to adjust how they see the world — and how they see themselves — so that they are poised for a deeper level of fulfillment and new opportunities for success. Whether you are looking for the perfect speaker for a corporate engagement, a team meeting, a business retreat or a church gathering, everyone who hears Stephanie's message will leave guided with a new outlook and armed with perspective on their side.

Color Today Pretty: Living a Life in Perspective

Discover the difference between living an ordinary life and an extraordinary one. Stephanie empowers attendees with the perspective they need to adapt their mindsets to embrace challenge as opportunity and provides them a roadmap to success while outlining her 7 step process to living a life in perspective.

Emergence: Grow from Where You Are Planted

Everyone is given a seed of possibility. What you do with your seed — with your greatest potential — is up to you. Stephanie engages attendees in reevaluating their dreams and creating the conditions needed for their seed of possibility to grow with a strong foundation and the perfect conditions for blooming.

Broken Beautiful

Due to life's challenges, the person you see when you look in the mirror may be one that appears broken. However, it is in our most broken moments where we are gifted with the opportunity to redefine ourselves and rebuild to become broken beautiful. Stephanie walks attendees through her three steps to shift how you see your broken pieces, adjust how each piece has meaning to you, and rebuild yourself into a beautiful masterpiece.

The emPowered Entrepreneur

Having never dreamed of starting her own business, Stephanie has collected her most successful — and her unsuccessful — approaches with her skillset in marketing, communications and public relations so that others who are seeking to take the leap into entrepreneurship are emPowered with the knowledge they need to be poised for success.

"Life doesn't have to happen to you.

Life can happen for you."

— Stephanie Feger

Inquire about bulk orders of "Color Today Pretty: An Inspirational Guide to Living a Life in Perspective" and "Color Today Pretty Guided Journal."

Stephanie
Feger

stephanie@colortodaypretty.com

502-541-0494

stephaniefeger.com

COLOR TODAY PRETTY!

-- Stephanie

LOVE Yourself, always!

